Encompassing functionality while encapsulating elegance

C Series

With utmost attention to details, the C SERIES fitting encompasses functionality while encapsulating elegance. Having spent more than three decades as innovators in this field, LISUS has developed a product which defies standard design blueprints of a spider fitting. We have developed the world's most beautiful spider.

C SERIES is a refined and technologically forward series. The collection defines grace in its design and is set to create a sensation in the architectural industry.

Company Profile

LISUS is a leading designer and manufacturer for architectural stainless steel fittings. Inspired by simplicity and functionality, LISUS consistently challenges the boundaries of technology through the development of coveted stainless steel products crafted for effortless installation. Coupled with a diverse range of products, LISUS is your provisional solution to the complexities of creating today's architectural landmarks.
